

■ Country Strategy Bangladesh

Main Goal: To enable children and their communities to demand their basic rights for health, education and nutrition, with a focus on environmental issues.

Bangladesh is one of the countries hardest hit by climate change. This is why all future interventions planned by KNH partners should include the dramatic changes taking place TODAY. Bangladesh, a country half the size of Germany but with 150 million inhabitants, is already experiencing severe resource deficits which need to be addressed by each project in order to be able to achieve sustainable, self-supporting communities. Not only are these resources under pressure due to the high population level but climate change and the high number of natural disasters are also leading to the loss of more and more living space. Any project, rural or urban, which does not address these issues is neglecting the dangers which even now are threatening the whole of Bangladesh.
